GOLF DESIGN GROUP

According to Mark Twain, the best way to ruin a good walk is to play the game of golf. While that may be true for Mark, many still enjoy the strategy and challenge of tackling a golf course, we believe the best golf course is one that is sited to work with the topography, drainage, vegetation and natural features of the land. LAI is able to deliver complete routing and feasibility studies as well as construction documents. We work directly with the contractor to minimize costs and maximize enjoyment with each round played. Being a highly collaborative group, we recognize some of our clients wish to have a big name associated with the course for marketing purposes, and have collaborated with such names as Weiskopf, Palmer, Dye, Nicklaus, and Art Hills.
